In light of the significant increase in the infection curve due to several outbreaks in the Costa Smeralda area and in Porto Cervo in particular, in order to protect the health of the staff, visitors to the facilities and sailors, the Yacht Club Costa Smeralda has decided to cancel the Rolex Swan Cup. The decision has been taken with the support of its long term partner Rolex and the Nautor's Swan shipyard.

The YCCS had employed all of its resources, and done everything within its power to make holding the traditional September regattas feasible, while ensuring maximum safety for all employees, partners, visitors and sailors. However, the public health situation in the area has rendered it objectively impossible for these events to take place.

We hope that you will understand this choice - one that we never would have wanted to make - which is aimed at safeguarding everyone's wellbeing.

The YCCS will refund the registration fee and assist, where possible, with the cancellation of accommodation.

We will work even more intensively for the next edition of the event, to try to compensate for it not taking place this year.
